The Gaza Strip

The IDF

► During December 2025, IDF forces continued operating within the Yellow Line (the area under IDF control) in the Gaza Strip, in accordance with the ceasefire agreement. The forces eliminated terrorists who crossed the Yellow Line or posed a threat, as well as terrorist operatives who attacked IDF forces, and destroyed weapons and tunnels located within the Yellow Line area. Hamas and the Palestinian Islamic Jihad (PIJ) returned the coffin of a Thai civilian who was murdered and abducted in the October 7, 2023 attack and massacre. The body of the one remaining murdered Israeli hostage, Israel Police Staff Sergeant Ran Gvili, is still being held in the Strip. IDF forces preventing smuggling using drones over the Egyptian border (IDF spokesperson, December 1–31, 2025).

Targeted Killing of Senior Hamas Figures

► On December 13, 2025, an aerial attack in the southwest of Gaza City killed Ra'ad Saad, a veteran operative in the Hamas military wing, head of the production headquarters of the Izz al-Din al-Qassam Brigades and one of the architects of the October 7, 2023 attack and massacre. He was close to Marwan Issa, deputy head of the military wing until he was killed in March 2024, and held several important positions in the Hamas military wing, including establishing and commanding the Gaza City Brigade and establishing the naval force. He was later appointed head of operational headquarters, initiated the establishment of the nukhba battalions, and played a central role in forming the Jericho Wall plan, on which the Hamas based its plans for the October 7 attack and massacre. As head of the production headquarters, he was responsible for the manufacture of all weapons for the military wing, for reconstructing production capabilities during the war and after the ceasefire, and for planting numerous explosive devices which killed IDF soldiers in the Strip (IDF spokesperson, December 13, 2025). Subsequently, the IDF Arabic-language spokesperson reported that Abd al-Hai Zaquout, a senior operative in the finance department of the Hamas military wing, was also killed in the attack. Zaquout raised tens of millions of dollars over the past year and transferred them to the military wing, which used them to continue trying to destroy the State of Israel (X account of the IDF Arabic spokesperson, December 24, 2025).

► Hamas confirmed the deaths of the "great mujahid [fighter] commander" Ra'ad Sa'id Saad, aka Abu Mu'ad, and of Riyadh al-Labban, Abd al-Hay Zaquout, and Yahya al-Kayali. According to the statement, with Saad's death, a "jihadist journey" of more than 35 years came to an end, which began in the first intifada, during which he was on the front lines, present in the arenas of "resistance"<sup>3</sup> activity, and contributed to building the capabilities of the Izz al-Din al-Qassam Brigades, having survived several assassination attempts. Hamas said it "views the crimes of the occupation as renewed confirmation that resistance and steadfastness are the way to defeat the enemy and restore the rights of the Palestinian people without compromise" (Hamas Telegram channel, December 14, 2025). According to the Hamas military wing, "the enemy has crossed all red lines" and "the occupation ignores the American plan," reiterating yet again that "we have the right to defend ourselves by all means." The military wing announced the appointment of a successor to Saad but did not name him (Izz al-Din Brigades Telegram channel, December 14, 2025). According to another report, Saad was killed while engaged in preparations for internal elections for the movement's leadership in the Strip (Ultra Palestine, December 29, 2025).

► On December 29, the Hamas military wing announced the deaths of five of its senior operatives who had been killed by Israel since March 2025, with the resumption of fighting after the previous ceasefire (Izz al-Din al-Qassam Brigades Telegram channel, December 29, 2025):

- ◆ "The great commander" Muhammad al-Sinwar, aka Abu Ibrahim, head of the Izz al-Din al-Qassam Brigades and killed in May 2025. He was reportedly the "best successor" to his predecessor, the "brilliant mind," Abu Khaled (Muhammad) Deif, and commanded the "operational wing" during al-Aqsa Flood (the October 7, 2023 attack and massacre). He played a key role in its planning and executing, as well as overseeing various aspects of the "defense plan" and confrontation with the "enemy's aggression." His "journey" reportedly began many years ago and included "magnificent" milestones, including commanding the Khan Yunis Brigade and holding several command positions in the military wing.

◆ "The great commander" Muhammad Shabana, aka Abu Anas, who commanded the Rafah Brigade and was killed together with Muhammad al-Sinwar in May 2025). He was referred to as a "respected leader" who "contributed" in various roles, from communications to logistics, and was a "hero known in the south of the Strip for 'exceptional operations,'" beginning with the abduction of Gilad Shalit in June 2006) through the attack on the Kerem Shalom crossing in April 2008, and the abduction of IDF officer Hadar Goldin during Operation Protective Edge in August 2014, as well as the "achievements" of Rafah fighters during the war.

◆ "The great commander" Hakem al-Issa, aka Abu Omar, was head of the combat and administrative support headquarters, and killed in June 2025. He was referred to as a "devoted jihad fighter and a humble, pious leader," who had wandered extensively "wearing the cloak of jihad in Palestine" and was known in Lebanon, Syria and many countries before settling in the Gaza Strip to pass on his knowledge to jihad fighters in "Palestine." Al-Issa held various leadership roles, including responsibility for the training department, the military academies and combat weapons, founded and commanded the military wing's air defense unit and was among the planners of al-Aqsa Flood.

◆ "The great commander" Ra'ad Saad, aka Abu Mu'ad, was in the production unit and was previously commander of "operations." He was known on the "fields of jihad" from its earliest days, was the first commander of the Gaza Brigade and held various leadership roles in different jihad arenas. Reportedly his last position was leading the military production system "which independently produces the weapons of the al-Qassam Brigades, from bullets to rifles, from rockets to explosive charges and shells, from naval vessels to the UAVs which played a decisive role in the breakthrough on October 7 and in the defensive battles thereafter."

◆ "The great commander" Khudeifa Samir Abdallah al-Kahlout, aka Abu Obeida, head of military information and spokesperson for the military wing, killed in August 2025. He was called "the thunderous voice of the nation, the man of the word and the stance, the pulse of Palestine," who had "the greatest influence on the souls of the nation's sons." He reportedly spoke "in the darkest circumstances, from the heart of the battlefield, bringing waves of joy and comfort, despite the great danger and repeated assassination attempts." The military wing claimed that "even the enemy's supporters, more than his own people, waited eagerly for his words, hoping to hear his decisive message and definitive news."

► The Palestinian Islamic Jihad (PIJ), the Popular Resistance Committees, the al-Mujahideen Movement and the Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine (DFLP) sent condolences to Hamas, saying the deaths of the senior military wing figures would provide strength for the "resistance"<sup>4</sup> to continue the struggle against the "occupation" (Hamas Telegram channel, December 29-31, 2025). Hezbollah and Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guards Corps also issued statements expressing support for the "Palestinian resistance" (South Lebanon – Watching the Enemy Telegram channel, December 30–31, 2025). Messages were also sent to Hamas by the Houthi leader Abd al-Malik al-Houthi and the Houthi chief of staff Yusuf Hassan al-Madani, who said they were confident the movement would continue the "struggle" and pledged their support (al-Masirah, December 30–31, 2025).

Other Terrorist Operative Fatalities

► On December 13, according to reports, Muhammad Abu Hussein Abd al-Aal, who served as commander of military intelligence in the Rafah Brigade of the Hamas military wing, died after being injured in an attack on displaced persons' tents in the al-Mawasi area of Khan Yunis on December 3 (al-Sharq al-Awsat, December 13, 2025; Facebook page of Amsak Harami, December 13, 2025).

Abu Hussein Abd al-Aal (Instagram account of Masdar News, December 13, 2025)

► On December 14, the Hamas ministry of interior in the Gaza Strip announced that an officer in the internal security forces, Lieutenant Colonel Ahmed Zamzam, was killed by gunfire from armed men in the al-Maghazi refugee camp, and that one suspect was arrested. Preliminary investigations reportedly indicated that he was killed by agents of the "occupation," under direct instructions from Israeli intelligence services (Telegram channel of the ministry of interior and national security in the Strip, December 14, 2025). Ghassan al-Dahini, commander of the Popular Forces militia, announced that the special operations division of the militia's counterterrorism department was responsible for the killing (Facebook page of Ghassan al-Dahini, December 14, 2025). However, "sources on the ground" stated that the assassins belonged to the new militia of Shuki Abu Nasira operating in eastern Khan Yunis (al-Sharq al-Awsat, December 15, 2025). The Hamas security forces claimed that during interrogation one of the detainees stated that Abu Nasira assigned him and two others to kill Zamzam (Telegram channel Khaleek Wa'i, December 15, 2025). On December 29, it was reported that Mahmoud al-

Zein Abu Jabha, alleged to have been involved in Zamzam's killing, was executed (Amsak Amil Telegram channel, December 29, 2025).

Exposure of a Hamas Money-Changing Network in Turkey

► Israeli security forces exposed documents indicating that Hamas operated a clandestine money-changing network in Turkey whose operatives were expatriates from the Gaza Strip. According to the announcement, the money changers operated in cooperation with the Iranian regime and transferred vast sums to Hamas and senior movement figures. The documents recorded transfers amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars, though it was noted that represented only a small part of the activity. The announcement revealed the identities of three Gaza-based Hamas operatives operating in Turkey: Tamer Hassan, a senior official in the Hamas finance office in Turkey operating under the head of the political bureau in the Strip, Khalil al-Hayya, and money changers Khalil Farwana and Farid Abu Dair (Telegram channel of the IDF Arabic spokesperson Avichay Adraee, December 7, 2025). "Sources in Hamas" denied the Israeli announcement and claimed that the movement had its own methods of transferring funds. They admitted that Hamas frequently faced difficulties in transferring funds from abroad to the Gaza Strip, and similarly to Judea and Samaria because of the "persecution" of Israel and the Palestinian Authority security forces, though they claimed that transferring funds from abroad was better there than in the Gaza Strip (al-Sharq al-Awsat, December 18, 2025).

The Qods Force

► On December 25, in an aerial attack in the al-Nasirah area in the northeastern Beqa'a Valley of Lebanon near the Syrian border, Israeli security forces eliminated Hussein Mahmoud Marshid al-Jawhari, called an important terrorist in the operational unit of Iran's Qods Force (Unit 840), who in recent years had been involved in promoting terrorist activity against the State of Israel in the Syrian and Lebanese arenas. He operated for the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps and was involved in Iranian-directed terrorist activity against the State of Israel and Israeli security forces (IDF spokesperson, December 25, 2025). The Lebanese ministry of health reported two fatalities in the attack near the town of Housh al-Sayyid Ali in the Beqa'a Valley (Lebanese News Agency, December 25, 2025). According to reports, Majed Qansuh and Hussein Mahmoud al-Jawhari were killed in an attack on a minibus on a road in Housh al-Sayyid Ali (Nabd news site,

Terrorism from Syria

► During December 2025, IDF forces continued activity to locate terrorist threats and seize weapons in the buffer zone on the Golan Heights and in southern Syria, searching in villages inside and outside the buffer zone. During activity near the village of Rafid, a suspect who had been operated by ISIS was detained and weapons were seized (IDF spokesperson, December 1–31, 2025).

Weapons seized in the village of Rafid (IDF spokesperson, December 20, 2025)

► Syrian media reported "infiltrations" by "Israeli occupation forces" of villages in the rural areas of Quneitra and Daraa provinces, the erection of checkpoints and the detention of local residents. In addition, on December 3, aerial attacks were reported near the town of Beit Jinn in the western rural area of Damascus, without casualties. On December 9, three civilians were reported wounded by Israeli fire at a location between Khan Arnabeh and Ein Eisha in the rural area of Quneitra (SANA, the Syrian Arab News Agency, and the Syrian Observatory, December 1–31, 2025).

► On December 24, the so-called Islamic Resistance Front in Syria – Men of Valor announced the death of the organization's leader, "general commander" Rada al-Hussein Abu Jihad. The circumstances of his death were not given, but he died "defending Syria and Arab Palestine." It was further stated that he had "sacrificed much on the path of jihad, which testified to the greatness of his integrity and faith in the cause for which he gave his life." The organization said it would continue to follow his path and that "the blood of the martyred leaders will increase the faith, resilience, strength, and determination of the resistance"<sup>7</sup> (Telegram channel of the Islamic Resistance Front in Syria – Men of Valor, December 24, 2025). ## The Houthis in Yemen

► During December 2025, the Houthis refrained from carrying out attacks against Israeli territory or against vessels, in line with their policy since the beginning of the ceasefire in the Gaza Strip on October 10, 2025. However, senior Houthi officials continued to threaten to resume attacks if Israel were to “violate” the ceasefire or if fighting between Israel and Hamas were to resume. In addition, they threatened to attack Israel in response to IDF activity against Hezbollah and warned they would act against Israeli targets in response to Israel’s recognition of Somaliland’s independence.<sup>8</sup>

Targeted killings of senior operatives

► On December 24, 2025, the Houthis officially announced the deaths of five movement operatives: Zakaria Abdallah Yahya Hajar, Ahmed Abdallah Yahya Hajar, Hussein Yahya Abdallah al-Hashemi, Abdallah Yahya Abdallah Hajar, and Mohammed Khaled Yahya al-Haifi (sa24 news website, December 24, 2025). The official Houthi announcements did not specify when or under what circumstances they were killed. However, it was reported that they were killed during US airstrikes in Sana'a in March 2025. It was noted that Zakaria Abdallah Yahya Hajar established the Houthis' drone unit after undergoing training in Iran and that he worked alongside Iranian experts and advisers from the IRGC's Qods Force and from Arab countries, while al-Haifi headed the operational activity of the Houthis' missile force (Al-Arabiya, December 25, 2025).

<sup>9</sup> Notes: Between January 19 and March 18, 2025, there was a ceasefire in the Gaza Strip and the Houthis suspended their attacks. The June 2025 figures are estimates as the Houthi spokesman did not provide an exact number of attacks on June 15 and 28, 2025. On October 10, 2025, the ceasefire in the Gaza Strip went into effect.

► Houthi media outlets also published an infographic detailing Hajar's biography, noting that he was among the founders of the Military Research and Development Center and carried out "reverse engineering" of several weapons systems. He led the establishment of the drone department of the air force, and his efforts "resulted in the construction of a diverse, multi-mission fleet of domestically produced drones that competed with their counterparts in developed countries, the most well-known of which is the 'Yaffa' drone" (Al-Masirah TV channel, December 25, 2025).

► The infographic published about al-Haifi states that he joined the missile force and actively contributed to it since its establishment. It was also noted that he "presented many ideas and solutions that contributed to a qualitative leap in the operational performance of the missile force in recent years" and that he supervised the joint operations of the missile and drone units in support of the Gaza Strip (Houthi Ministry of Defense's combat information, December 24, 2025).

► On December 30, 2025, the Houthis announced the death of Abd al-Malik al-Murtada, who served as the movement's representative in the joint operations room of the Iran-led "Axis of Resistance," and who apparently was also killed in US airstrikes in March 2025. "Sources" reported that he played a key role in coordinating operations among the pro-Iranian branches in Syria, Iraq, and Lebanon, and coordinated the transfer of fighters and weapons from Iran to Yemen. He returned to Yemen after the October 7, 2023 attack and the outbreak of the war in the Gaza Strip, but shortly thereafter moved to southern Lebanon, where he operated with groups affiliated with Hezbollah. Following the targeted killing of senior Hezbollah figures, headed by secretary-general Hassan Nasrallah, he moved to Iraq together with a group of Houthi operatives, where they worked with local militias. The "sources" added that he returned to Houthi-controlled Yemen in early 2025. Along with him, the deaths of two additional officers were reported: Sharaf al-Murtada and Zakaria al-Mahdi (Asharq Al-Awsat, December 31, 2025).

Terrorism Abroad

► On December 14, 2025, two Muslim terrorists shot at participants at a ceremony for lighting the first Hanukkah candle, held at the popular Bondi Beach in Sydney. Fifteen people were killed in the attack, most of them members of the Jewish community, including a 10-year-old girl, an 87-year-old Holocaust survivor, and a Chabad emissary, and more than 40 others were wounded. One of the attackers, Sajid Akram (50 years old), was killed, and his son, Navid Akram (24 years old), was shot and wounded and later indicted on charges of murder and terrorism. The Australian Federal Police suspected that the two terrorists had been inspired by ISIS, and had carried out the attack after meticulous planning which included weapons training and gathering intelligence; explosive devices and an ISIS flag were found in their vehicle. They stayed at a hotel in the Philippines during November 2025, in an area known as a center of ISIS activity, although police noted that no evidence had so far been found indicating that they received training, logistical assistance or external instructions to carry out the attack while in the Philippines. The investigation is ongoing (Australian media, December 14–31, 2025).<sup>10</sup>
